Quote

The Company refers to the obligation which Prospects MTF Companies are subject to, in terms of Rule 4.11.03 and Rule 4.11.12 relating to the publication of twelve-month financial information as defined in Table 1 paragraph 3 of the Prospects Rules and, specifically, the publication and dissemination (via a company announcement) of Financial Sustainability Forecasts (hereinafter referred to as "FSFs"), including applicable management assumptions. The below forecasts for 2022 have been drawn-up assuming that outlets will not be affected by closures or government-imposed restrictions due to COVID-19 or other world events. The Company expects 2022 to show signs of significant recovery from the pandemic of previous years, based on the expectation of a substantial increase of inbound tourism to Malta.

The forecast statement of financial position, the forecast statement of profit or loss, and the forecast statement of cash flows (hereafter "the Forecasts") of the Group for the periods ending 31 December 2022 have been prepared to provide financial information for the purposes of the announcement of Financial Sustainability Forecasts. The assumptions set out below are the sole responsibility of the Directors of the Company.

The Forecasts are intended to show a possible outcome based on assumptions relating to anticipated future events which the Directors expect to take place, and on actions which the Directors expect to take. Events and circumstances frequently do not occur as expected, and therefore, actual results may differ materially from those included in the forecast and projected financial information. We draw your attention to the risk factors set out in the Admission Document, which describe the primary risks associated with the business to which the Forecasts relates.

The Forecasts are not intended to and do not provide all the disclosures necessary to give a true and fair view of the financial results, financial position, and cash flows of the Group, in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the EU, however the Directors have exercised due care and diligence in adopting the assumptions set out below.

These Forecasts were formally approved on 28 April 2022 by the Directors, and the stated assumptions reflect the judgements made by the Directors at that date. The assumptions that the Directors believe are significant to the Forecasts are described below.

At a Group and consolidated level, the below copy of the FSFs, as approved by the Board of Directors, is based on the following assumptions:

Basis of Preparation

The Forecasts show the projected financial performance and position of the Group in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the European Union (“EU-IFRS”) except that, due to the nature of Forecast Financial Information, the Forecasts do not include all the disclosure requirements under EU-IFRS and other laws or securities regulations, including but not limited to the Maltese Companies Act (Cap. 386).

Significant macro-economic assumptions

During 2020 and 2021, the global economy was severely impacted by the unprecedented restrictions imposed on activity to counter the spread of the COVID-19 pandemic. Measures put in place by the Government of Malta to limit the transmission of the virus coupled with a collapse in consumer and business confidence in general have inevitably led to a steep contraction in economic activity. Please refer to the announcements made by the Company in this respect, detailing possible variations from the Company Admission Document.

Macro-economic assumptions relating to the environment in which the Group operates which are exclusively outside the influence of the Directors and which underlie the forecasts, are the following:

- Despite the reduction in revenue relating to COVID-19 in previous years, the Company will continue to enjoy the confidence of its customers and bankers throughout the Forecasts period presented;
- There will be no further major lockdown imposed by the Government of Malta;
- Restrictions imposed on inbound travel and tourism are expected to be removed completely;
- The rate of inflation will be in line with historic trends;
- The basis and rates of taxation, direct and indirect, will not change materially throughout the period covered by the Forecast Financial Information;
- The Company will enjoy good relations with its employees throughout the forecasted period.
- As detailed in the latest company announcements, the Group has transferred to third parties two outlets and rights over brands and, in turn, opened outlets in Valletta (BeefBar in the City) and in Bugibba (Cibo). These outlets are expected to operate for the whole period without closure or restrictions.

Other significant assumptions

Other assumptions taken by the Directors, which underlie the Forecasts are the following:

Property, Plant and Equipment

The Group has acquired, during April 2022, the property in Bugibba as per the Company Admission Document. The value included in the forecast excludes the revaluation of the property that is expected to occur at the end of the year to reflect the market value of the property. This will create a significant revaluation reserve in the Statement of Financial Position further strengthening the equity position of the Group. The below forecast does not include such a revaluation for prudence purposes.

Revenue

The Testa Group's (i.e. Testa Properties Limited, Testa Catering Concepts Limited and Testa Finance plc) revenue for the twelve months ending 31 December 2022 is expected to total €4,538,898. This income shall be generated through the operation of the catering establishments owned by the Group, namely: Beefbar on the Beach (Bugibba), Cibo (Bugibba) and Beefbar in the City (Valletta).

Direct costs

Direct costs are calculated based on historic averages which are quite standard in the catering industry and the Testa Group in general. These mainly concern the acquisition of food items to be used in the establishments.

Administrative costs

Administrative costs consist of fixed costs and variable costs. The latter are calculated based on historic performance and industry averages.

Finance costs

Finance costs relate primarily to interest on the Group's borrowings, which mainly constitute the bond issued on Prospects MTF and interest on finance obtained through Bank of Valletta plc. Other finance costs include bank charges and EPOS commissions, interest on the general banking facility and finance costs in relation to the leases as per IFRS 16.

Taxation

Current taxation is based on the corporate tax rate in Malta of 35%.

Working Capital

The Group's main line of business is the operation of catering establishments. Consequently, trade debtors are quite limited and usually comprise of deposits or prepayments made by the Group for the acquisition of inventory or other assets. The Group's working capital mainly comprises of the net impact of trade and other receivables together with trade and other payables. Trade and other payables include both trade payables and capital creditors.

Changes in shareholders' capital

No changes in shareholders' capital that affect the Group on a consolidated basis are expected in the year 2022.

Expected earnings per share and outstanding shares

Should the below projections materialise, earnings per share on a consolidated level are expected to be in the region of EUR 0.77. The shares of the Group are owned privately and there are no outstanding shares from any class. This is not expected to change during 2022.

Earnings trend and financial position

The year 2022 is expected to be the first year where, post-pandemic, all the outlets of the Group are in operation without severe restrictions. The Group also expects restrictions on inbound tourism to be lifted, increasing the customer-base for 2022 substantially.

Other information

The next report of annual earnings has been published today, 28 April 2021, as per the Prospects Rules, on the Company's website and through a Company Announcement. No dividends will be distributed during 2022. The Group has held its annual general meeting today.

Conclusion

The Directors believe that the assumptions on which the Forecasts are based are reasonable. The Directors further believe that, in the absence of further unforeseen circumstances outside their control, the working capital available to the Company will be sufficient for the carrying on of its business.
